TENURE-TRACK POSITION IN CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY
POSITION DESCRIPTION
Search #26.14

SAN FRANCISCO STATE UNIVERSITY, DEPARTMENT OF PSYCHOLOGY invites applicants for a tenure-track Assistant, Associate, or Full Professor position in Clinical Psychology beginning August 2015. Candidates are preferred who have teaching and/or research experience with a large, diverse student body. Consideration will be given to applicants specializing in the assessment or treatment of mental health issues resulting from exposure to trauma or violence. This position is part of a cluster hire in the University focused on ‘Violence, Trauma, and Health.’ Other positions within the cluster include scholars in Kinesiology and Cinema. As part of this cluster, the three hires will be expected to work together on areas of shared interest in order to facilitate interdisciplinary research and curricular collaborations across SFSU Departments and Colleges. Candidates are also preferred who have experience in multicultural settings. San Francisco State University, a member of the California State University system, serves a diverse student body of over 29,000 undergraduate and graduate students. The University seeks to promote appreciation of scholarship, freedom, and human diversity through excellence in instruction and intellectual accomplishment. SFSU faculty are expected to be effective teachers and demonstrate professional achievement and growth through research, scholarship, and/or creative work.

Qualifications
We seek an outstanding scholar engaged in high impact research on Clinical Psychology with an emphasis in trauma to enhance and complement the department’s current areas of expertise. Candidates should have a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from an APA-accredited program; be a licensed Psychologist or Marriage and Family Therapist in California or be eligible for licensure in California; and demonstrate evidence of a successful program of research and teaching.

Responsibilities
The position requires graduate and undergraduate teaching, clinical supervision of graduate students in clinical training, and developing a research program and research lab in which undergraduate and graduate students are mentored. Collaborations within the ’Violence, Trauma and Health’ cluster are expected. The new hire may be affiliated with SFSU’s Health Equity Institute. Additional collaborations on campus and with other institutions are encouraged.

Rank and Salary
Assistant, Associate or Full Professor. Salary is negotiated and commensurate with experience.

Application Process
All materials should be submitted online by October 19, 2014. Candidates should submit a letter of intent, current curriculum vitae, a sample of scholarly papers, and a description of teaching and research interests. At least three letters of reference should be submitted separately. Please apply and submit all materials online at https://academicjobsonline.org/ by October 19, 2014. Hardcopy applications will not be accepted.

The University is an Equal Opportunity employer with a strong commitment to diversity and encourages applications from women, members of all ethnic groups, veterans and people with disabilities.