Psychology Major Admissions Process- Fall 2015

The Psychology major is an impacted program, which means there are more students interested in the major than we can accommodate. Therefore, we have an admission process to the major. This ensures smaller class size and provides students with better access to faculty.

Application Timeframe
Applications for declaring a major or change of major will be accepted from October 1- December 1st, 2014 for entry into the major effective Fall 2015. Late applications will NOT be accepted. NO EXCEPTIONS.

CURRENT SF STATE STUDENTS
Current SF State students, who wish to become Psychology majors, may apply by submitting required forms to the Psychology Department Office, EP 301, between Oct 1 – Dec 1, 2014:
- SF State Change of Major form and a
- PSY Admissions Checklist form.

Both forms must be submitted in order to be considered. Grades earned during the Fall 2014 semester will be considered in the decision.

TRANSFER STUDENTS
Upper-division transfer students, who wish to attend SF State as Psychology majors, may apply to the University and request consideration to become a Psychology major from Oct 1 - Nov 30, 2014 via www.csumentor.edu Transfer students must also submit official transcripts, including Fall 2014 grades, by the designated deadline to the SF State Admissions Office. Students should monitor their email for updates from the Admissions Office.

Admission Selection process
All students (transfers and current SF State students who want to become majors) will be placed in an admissions pool. Admissions decisions will be made in late April 2015. Students, who are admitted from the admissions pool to the Psychology major, will become majors effective Fall 2015. All notifications (acceptances, waitlist and denials) will be made to your SF State email address. Transfer students will be notified of their status by the SF State Admissions office, using the email address submitted on their www.csumentor.edu application.

Minimum Eligibility Requirements
Students must meet the following minimum requirements to be considered for admission:
- Complete PSY 200 (or equivalent) with a grade of C or better.
- Have completed a minimum of 60 units by the end of Spring 2015 semester.
- GPA of at least 2.0 and must not be on academic probation, subject to disqualification, or other academic hold.
- Continuing students who have earned 96 units or more by the end of Spring 2015 must submit a Declaration of Major After Accruing 96 Units form.

Meeting the minimum requirements does not guarantee your acceptance into the major

Criteria for Admissions Selection
The main criterion is the cumulative (all college) Grade Point Average. The number of majors accepted will vary according to capacity, number of applications received, and department resources.

What happens if I am accepted?
Each student will be given the opportunity to accept or decline our offer of admission to the Psychology major. Current SF State students should follow instructions that will be provided in the acceptance email. The department will not change your major without your final approval. Transfer students who are accepted to the Psychology major must meet all University requirements and deadlines as designated by the SF State Admissions Office. If a transfer student is accepted and does not enroll in SF State during Fall 2015, the student may reapply for consideration in the next admissions cycle.

What happens if I am NOT accepted?
Continuing SF State students who are not accepted to the Psychology major will remain in their current major (or undeclared status) at SF State. Transfer students who are not accepted to the Psychology major will be automatically reviewed for their second choice major (as listed on their application via www.csumentor.edu).

PLEASE NOTE:
Students should plan on enrolling and completing a sufficient number of units in order to meet the 60 units required by the end of Spring 2015 semester.
